Variety is the spice of life.

While the love movement of the seventies raged, Cathy crafted dough art and macramé. Her curiosity spurred her on to experiment with different artforms and upon discovering painting and pottery in the fall of 1998, a new type of love blossomed.

Born and bred in London, Ontario, it was only natural that she became a member of The London Potters Guild (LPG) in 1999. She also continues to hone her craft at London Clay Art Centre, a welcome home away from home (and home of the LPG!). Not to be outdone by anyone, Cathy strongly believes in self-development and keeping her mind fresh with astonishing ideas for her pieces.

She frequently takes classes and workshops and enjoys giving advice and guidance to new potters. All of her pieces are modelled from slabs of clay and coils, using food safe glazes. Her art is described as "functional pottery, along with whimsical pieces."

Cathy proudly showcases her work at London Clay Art Centre; the LPG's spring and fall Potters Market sales, and various other shows and festivals.
