A spirited craftsman, Gene Timpany creates alluring and mystical works of art. With a keen eye for detail, he captures amazing colour and fuses natural elements such as fire, smoke and light to produce stunning clay pieces. Gene's unparalleled talent knows no boundaries as he creates amazing functional, as well as exquisite decorative items.

Gene's love for clay forms and physically creating an object stemmed from his mother, who became involved in ceramics while he was still in public school. His journey of knowledge acquisition never ended and in 2005, he joined the London Potters Guild. Having been actively involved in the London community for several years, Gene's stories are told through his handiwork, each piece embodying a unique experience as it captures the movement of the glaze. Texture also brilliantly adds to the play of light, shadow and colour. Eager to pass on his expertise, Gene teaches at LCAC, skillfully molding bright minds as he continues to pursue his passion for clay art.
