A distinct and beautiful merging of cultures is apparent in Unha Hill's craftsmanship. Her love for adventure emanates not only from her work, but throughout her clay journey as well. Always experimenting, Unha enjoys a challenge, and constantly pushes herself to improve her techniques and raise the bar on her creative execution.

Born in South Korea, exquisite objects always fascinated Unha, so much so, that she pursued a Master of Floral Arts. That later led to her opening and operating "Floral Creations by Unha," after immigrating to Canada in 1991. Upon deciding to raise a family, she retired from the business, but kept perfecting her art.

Now, nearly 20 years later, Unha oversees a cultural exchange program with North American potters. By taking them to Korea and China, she exposes them to a cultural melange of ancient pottery techniques. Her travels also help keep her updated so that her own work continue to reflect her artistic reinvention.
